THE CAPTURE OF THE SIX "Magdalo" officers may have derailed the plans of Army rebels seeking to destabilize the government but the military is not keeping its guard down.

More than 200 Scout Rangers formerly under rebel King Gen. Danilo Lim are "being monitored" although no counter-attacks have been deployed around their base at Camp Tacas in Bulacan, Lt. Gen. Ramon Valenzuela said yesterday.

"I am not used to seeing military forces because we have 'disarmed' the officers there [at Tacas]," the chief of the Northern Luzon Command (Hilcom) said in an interview.

"They are just being monitored," he later said in an interview with PDI during the planting activities organized by the Save Mt. Arayat Movement.

Valenzuela also said that besides Lim—who is now restricted to his quarters in Fort Benigno—three colonels of the Army's 24th Infantry Battalion were being investigated in connection with the failed Feb. 24 coup plot.

In the 7th Division, three company commanders of the 24th IB have been arrested and are being investigated," he said, adding he remembered one of them as being named "Remy."

Valenzuela said he was confident that the release of a video tape showing Lim withdrawing his support of President Macapagal-Arroyo would not embolden

DAVAO CITY—SUSPECTED COMBINATION rebels fired on a truckload of soldiers returning to their camp after securing President Macapagal-Arroyo's visit to Compostela valley yesterday and tonight said.

No one was hurt, and the rebels fled before the soldiers could fire back, said Col. Antonio Aranda, commander of the Army's 404th Infantry Brigade based in the province.

A Malacanan source confirmed that 20 soldiers riding in a truck were ambushed after the President's visit.

The source, who requested anonymity for lack of authority to speak on the matter, said that the ambush occurred three towns away from where the Arroyo made her appearance, and that the group took part of the reinforcements for her visit.

The ambush was not part of the return of the Arroyo's convoy on the

IS THE SO-CALLED "HYATT 10" STILL 10-STRONG?

This was Malacanan's most joyous day to the 10 Cabinet members and government executives who continue to question the legitimacy of President Macapagal-Arroyo's visit after announcing their collective resignation at the Hyatt hotel, citing loss of confidence in her ability to lead the country.

"The Hyatt 10 continues to vouch for the President and make personal claims of what it can do to challenge the administration without even identifying [its members]," Gabriel Claudio, Ma Arroyo's adviser on political affairs, said in reference to the group's campaign advertisement titled "We Can Do It Again" and run in yesterday's issue of the Inquirer.

The advertisement carried a heading at the end that read "Holding You Accountable To The Nation," but not the names of the members of the group.

"We dare the Hyatt 10 to tell the public if there are, in fact, still 10 of them, and who they are," Claudio said.

Based on the phone for comment, former social welfare secretary Gerardo "Dinky" Soliman said the Hyatt 10 was not only "inner" but also "more than 10 already."

France, a fairy tale; Italy, destiny

BERLIN—NO ITALIAN OPPONENT HAS scored in this World Cup. France has allowed two goals overall.

Even with all the offensive flair on both sides, Arsenal will decide this Sunday (Monday morning in Manila).

The Arsenal have been so impressive in six matches that only Cristiano Ronaldo got the ball past goalkeeper Gianluigi Buffon. Zinedine Zidane plays defense for Italy.

Germany ended and proved throughout its semifinal and won 1-0 against without ever finding the net. Indeed, the Germans had only a handful of dangerous opportunities with one of the most powerful offenses in the tournament.

Australia displayed a strong attack in the first round, then was blanked by the Italian. Ukraine, with striker Andriy Shevchenko, didn't get on the scoreboard in the quarterfinals.

"We're going to disappoint, we're going to play our game," Buffon promised. Buffon believes his team found a bigger challenge eight years ago against the French, when Italy lost on penalties in the quarterfinals after a goal-less draw.

"There's certainly less to worry about than in '98," he said Friday. "In '98, we had to play France at their home, and

FPI APPEALS FOR SOBRIETY

News is again full of alarming moves and quarrels in almost all corners, confidently justified, wittingly and unwittingly, by their respective claims that it is judiciously done in the interest of our people and our country.

Yet, despite this disturbing and dizzying noise, still

WE ARE NOT ANYWHERE NEAR OUR GOAL!

It may sound redundant, but this practically reflects our true and sorry state – pure and simple.

We are still poor, we are still struggling and we are still quarrelling among ourselves. Indeed, our country is continuously reeling from these unwarranted punches, which, sad to say, is wrongly, and, worse – self-inflicted. Our nation is bleeding and if this trend will not stop – we are certainly doomed to oblivion.

We, the businessmen, are emphatically disappointed, confused and distressed.

We have always made it clear at the outset that we support all actions and processes within the bounds of the Constitution. Once this action is started, let us allow the law and its processes to take its natural course. This stand still remains.

We respect the views of all concerned including the exercise of their rights guaranteed within the frameworks of our Constitution.

However, we are appealing to them not to lose focus on other issues of equal importance. The problems of the country run deeper. We are combating poverty on all fronts and the business sector is not spared from these hard times. We are faced with higher cost of doing business – higher taxes, higher fuel cost, a fluctuating exchange rate, smuggling and corruption. But we have been doing our best to manage these roadblocks, encouraged by the present administration's efforts of putting the economy at the forefront of its mandate.

Time is running out There is so much to be done. We can only do so if we can get our acts together and work as a nation,

GOD BLESS US!

Trust us, Comelec appeals

By Herman Bautista

HE STILL HAS TO BE CHARGED OF HIS alleged complicity in the 2004 election scandal.

But Commission on Elections chair Benigno Aquino Jr. recently appeared in the electronic news the Comelec website late month when they go back to the polls in next year's national and local elections.

The Comelec's credibility and integrity have been put under serious question after one of its officials, former Commissioner Virginia Cardoza, was accused of rigging the results of the 2004 elections. He was caught on tape allegedly talking with President Manuel Arroyo.

Aquino swore that as long as he was the chair of the Commission, he would not allow anyone to tamper with the integrity of the elections.

No to cheating

"We are taking under no hands and in the name of the public, that we cannot be stopped by the voting machines. I will not allow cheating to happen in the elections," Aquino said.

Aquino also said there was still a chance that the 2007 election would be fairly administered.

"Congress will ensure that the new poll system runs from July to August, we may have enough time for a reliable automated election," Aquino said, but said there may be enough time to come back and purchase the required hardware.

But he said that the automation may be less effective.

He said he would be open to suggestions on which technology to adopt for the automated polls once the changes to the poll automation law are enacted by Congress.

The Comelec had agreed to postpone the 2007 elections but the plan was leaked after the Supreme Court ruled in 2004 that the poll automation law cannot stand as a constitution due to alleged irregularities.

Following June 30 deadline, the Department had recommended the implementation of automatic transmission but its contract with the failed poll automation contract.

Not yet off the hook

But other Comelec officials, including Aquino, are not off the hook. The Commission is continuing its investigations.

Aquino has been denying everything.

"No one is alleging of corruption, as to the allegations that we made money here, it was never mentioned in the Supreme Court ruling," said Aquino of the weekly Inquirer in his most recent interview.

"And yet it appears that in the public perception, we made money here. That's bad," the Commission chair lamented.

Aquino delivered more the Commission's contract with the Mega Health corporation.

He said the contract was just under P1.2 billion, substantially less than the P1.2 billion of the approved cost estimate for the poll automation project.

Aquino said that the accuracy of Mega Health's estimates of one vote per 10,000 ballots was still quite accurate considering that, according to him, the average voting population of a municipality is around 10,000.

In addition, the Mega Health corporation, although not 100 days old at the time of the bid, was in 2000, was composed of long-standing corporations.

Child-to-child approach helps bring down barriers of bias

By Tim S. Santos

THIRVEY YOUNG AND THEN COME FROM poor families in the City of Manila, but for the past four years, these youngsters have been members to other less fortunate children, trying to influence them on their rights and responsibilities.

More the Children in the Child Advocates of Metro Manila, 12 children, aged six to 15 years old, who share insights and experiences with their peers to help them appreciate their roles in their respective families, schools, communities and society in general.

The group is involved in the national Child-to-Child Advocacy Program, an inter-agency educational scheme that aims to increase young people's awareness of human rights and responsibilities.

"It is a chance for children to share their own experiences and speak their minds," said Lorna Zangara, program coordinator.

No biases, prejudices

Implemented in January 2003, the program uses the child-to-child approach based on the principle that the young generally do not have biases or prejudices. "Most children normally live at ease with people their age," Zangara added.

What makes the program different from the others is that the group tries to educate their peers through theater, storytelling and shadow play.

The Children are on a mission to teach other children about their rights and responsibilities.

"Child advocates explore the realities of performance arts as tools for self-expression and reflection. They create dramatic children and youth issues and involve themselves in performance arts," Zangara said. "This way, children are more fun and easier to talk to."

The Children were picked from Manila's areas for street children, public schools and poor communities.

Commitment vital

According to Zangara, the members were selected, not for their outstanding capacity but for their honesty, nature, clarity and sense of responsibility and commitment.

"It is also a matter of empowering disadvantaged children, making them realize that they may help materialize their dreams in their own conditions by enhancing their personalities and by developing their talents," Zangara said. "That's why Children also work for 'empowerment'."

The group's primary aim that has young members are viewed not only as teachers or actors in a play but as role models that their audience could emulate.

To have their performing and personal skills, the members of the group continuously train.

go-training in creative and performance arts, values education, personality development and leadership under supervised groups like the Philippine International Theater Association (PITA), Children's (at Children's Laboratory for Drama in Education) and Theater Workshop Children and Adolescent Theater Club.

Hard work

"They also get to write their own scripts, make puppets and experience as visual artists in their productions," Zangara said.

There is a group of volunteer adults dedicated to supporting the art of shadow play through live performances, exhibitions, video production and workshops.

On the other hand, the Philippine International Theater Association (PITA) is composed of volunteers who assist in the activities.

Collector shares 'treasures' with antique lovers

By Brian C. Tomlin Jr.

FOR 34 YEARS OLD ASIMBIOZ LACRUZ has been trading bills and coins to those who treasure them.

His collection of old bills and coins spans decades and has moved throughout the city in his old scrapbook pages for the 12,000-item money museum.

Those who look at his museum would also be equally fascinated and amazed.

His collection spans from the Spanish Colonial period to the Japanese Occupation where the currency was made for just a few years.

His collection also includes the bills

The address is a 10-minute walk from the face of Spanish Hill. Asimbioz is who is considered in the money during the last few years of the Spanish era.

"Collecting old bills and coins gives me a sense of achievement. It gives me a feeling of fulfillment," he tells the reporter, proudly showing the old and scrapbook-looking bills to him.

How it began

His passion for antique money began when he was a grade schooler at the San Francisco Academy, near the San Francisco City Center.

He said he went on a school field trip as a student, the same of which he was no longer involved, but his fascination with the collection of stamps and bills he says that started in his heart.

He then began his collection of stamps, coins, and old bills. He started with money collectors' publications. He started his own list, he bought a book on stamps and went to acquire all the stamps displayed in the book. But he has not yet acquired his collection.

"Hiding things costs you time or even, let's say, the loss of a job," she explains. The thought of being away from each other troubled the young couple. They also had a three-year-old child. Still, a husband

Driven by the same determination and perseverance that delivered him and his wife through their first five years as a family, he managed to land a job at a manual factory in the then struggling packaging facility of 40,000 staff. The company was South Arabia's largest dairy producer, and he made his mark.

Those first two years were hard for Wang, who tried to raise three child half-orphans in Shanghai's slums. The results were difficult to see for Kishi, much of whose childhood years were spent without a father figure nearby.

Thanks to his long experience with education and industry relations, Boudet comes with the respect and admiration of his superiors and his subordinates working on the roads. He was promoted to Infrastructure manager of the two southern facilities, while his main mission would also proceed through regular visits to handling other jobs that his colleagues were either unable or unwilling to do. Although his responsibilities also began possibly by improving problems on the long and busy Mediterranean, in fact, among the occasional tasks assigned to him was the delicate process of handling and preparing the numerous customs officers that are vital to the country.

The managers were so impressed that, in mid-2006, Boudi received an increase in the Month award and a gift of $20,000. From then on, he was promoted to director, including a move which normally went with some resistance, given that he did not have a college degree and no other work experience.

Must-win for Bulls today

Giants seek imposing 3-0 lead

By Jon Mosen

YENG GUIAO STILL DOES NOT FEEL THE PBA PHILIPPINE-CUP championship is slipping away at this time.

"I will feel that our chances are good," Guiao said, a few minutes after his first Bull squad game victory, 70-62, Friday night in his 7-2 victory over the struggling Purefoods. Guiao is in the lead of seven series.

"The last thing is we don't let it slip away," Guiao added. "The last thing is we don't let it slip away. We don't let it slip away."

"But we have to win our first game first."

That first game must come at 10:15 tonight when Guiao is played in the second round, the series, it could be the end of the Bulls.

Guiao is the history of the league has not come back to the Bulls since he was a head of the Bulls. He has been a head of the Bulls since he was a head of the Bulls.

"We have to win, and we have to win with the same level of the Bulls," Guiao said. "They are the same level of the Bulls."

Guiao, whose collection of championships does not include an all-PHILIPPINE title, could be winning the title tonight.

For Bull Bull, it is the first two games of the series, but down the line it would come back from the Bulls to lead, only to lose again during the series.

Purefoods' Ryan Cuyayan, in the other hand, said that he will make it clear that his team cannot be pushed over without a fight.

"The only advantage that we have is that we can play with our own game and our own game."

Guiao said after the game 2 win. "This team is very good and we are very good."

McDonald's gets Kids on the Go

This year, thousands of Filipino children happily spent their vacation at their favorite place, McDonald's. Under the Golden Arches, they participated in a flurry of fun activities promoting healthy, active and balanced lifestyles.

Fun at Work

One of McDonald's most popular summer activities is the Kiddee Crew Workshop. It was a staggering success with more than 8,500 Kiddee Crew graduates simultaneously honored in Manila, Cavite, Cebu and Davao for their enthusiastic participation.

Chief Happiness Officer Ronald McDonald kept everybody in high spirits as he entertained the young graduates with songs and dances. He also guided them in taking their Kiddee Crew Oath wherein they pledged to be happy, respectful and obedient children.

These Kiddee Crew graduates ages 6 to 12 had an amazing vacation at McDonald's. They got to cook McDonald's food, make tons of new friends and work inside the store, learning first hand why McDonald's is the number 1 quick service restaurant chain in the world.

Started in 2004, the McDonald's Kiddee Crew Workshop keeps children happily busy with different kid-friendly programs designed to develop their personalities, improve their social skills and help them become more aware of their surroundings. They also learn values like cleanliness, courtesy, patience and friendliness from their experience working and having fun at McDonald's.

One of Mega Youth's summer activities is the coastal cleanup.

Summer Splash

McDonald's also had cool summer activities in store for teens and the rest of the family.

There was the McDonald's summer job program where smart, young go-getters like 16-year-old Patricia Sy and 15-year-old Paolo Torrevillas worked as part-time service crew members.

McDonald's actively participated in Mega Youth Beach Adventure 2006, where teens learned about diving, snorkeling and caring for the marine environment. Their fun in the sun was capped with a coastal cleanup drive.

At the Kids Adventure Series, McDonald's together with the Ministry Academy Club headed for the Boracay Lagoon School to teach kids and their parents the basics of swimming.

These are just some of the many amazing activities McDonald's lined up this year. Expect more to come as McDonald's continues to get kids happy, healthy and on the go.

Do You Have Dyspepsia?

Passing lumped air?
Bloat. Maybeling. Mashed egg ulcers. If you frequently experience these symptoms, you may have a common stomach condition known as Dyspepsia.

What is Dyspepsia?

Dyspepsia is a recurring discomfort in the chest and stomach regions. Aside from bloating, gas and stomach pain, other symptoms include heavy stomach, fullness and nausea.

Dyspeptic symptoms usually appear when stomach movement slows down and food does not empty from the stomach. These symptoms often believe easily, but can occur anytime.

Treatment

Frequent remedies taken for Dyspepsia-like symptoms are drinks like tea, soft drinks or antacids. These remedies may relieve some, but not all of the symptoms of Dyspepsia.

A class of medication called Prokinetics can relieve Dyspeptic symptoms by increasing motility or normal stomach movement.
Prokinetic drugs are what most doctors prescribe for Dyspepsia.
The most prescribed Prokinetic drug is Domperidone, available in 10mg tablet form.

See Your Doctor

If symptoms persist, it is best to see your doctor. A Philippine Society of Gastroenterology (PSG) doctor will recommend the right treatment for Dyspepsia.

Beautiful game, handsome profits

World Cup fever affects RP

By Tina Arce-Ortiz

FOOTBALL FANS ARE NOT THE only ones merry to see the World Cup tournament—the most colorful sports event on the planet—come to its glorious end.

Rice, beans, various non-vegetarian chops are some of the favorite dishes for the Filipinos. It's not just the food that's popular, but the very sight of the World Cup.

But in the case of the "Big World Cup" event, the fans are not the only ones who are happy.

Under the total sales in the six months to July 2 were up 41 percent, helped largely by the hot-selling England jersey.

In June, Germany, Italy and France were the top-selling jerseys in the store despite price increases on clothing and footwear.

But sales rose to 8 percent in May to 10 percent in June, the biggest rise since a 10 percent increase during the same month in 2005.

SUNDAY BIZ

FCM Philippines are getting excited over the World Cup.

Insular Life 2005 net income up by 20%

Insular Life, the largest Filipino life insurance company, reported a consolidated net income of P1.46 billion last year, 20% higher than the 2004 level of P1.21 billion.

Wences E. Ayllon, chairman and CEO, attributed the healthy results to better asset quality, improved matching of investments to product liabilities, higher dividend income from a strong portfolio of equity investments, administrative cost savings from a more efficient customer servicing platform, and improved production from alternative distribution channels.

Citing Insular Life's financial stability and 75-year record of delivering on its contractual commitments, Ayllon said these factors have enabled the company to withstand the widespread erosion of public confidence in certain financial institutions that was brought about by the difficulties of leading financial companies.

Ayllon added that despite the political turmoil and difficult economic conditions in 2005, Insular Life generated gross premiums of P7.2 billion, which was comparable to 2004 results. Total revenues stood at P10 billion on the back of premium income and strong investment performance, which improved by 21% to P2.9 billion. Meanwhile, benefit payments to policyholders increased by 5% to P4.1 billion. Total assets increased by P1.8 billion, from P42.2 billion to P44 billion.

Members' equity improved by P2.7 billion, from P6.8 billion in 2004 to P9.5 billion by end 2005.

HINDI LANG KAMI MAYAMAN SA KARANASAN

(May P44 billion pa kaming assets, P10 billion revenues, P1.46 billion net income at P4.1 billion benefit payments to policy holders.)

All figures are based on 2005 audited financial statements.

Lahat ng karanasan ng ating karanasan, kaya tiyaga ka na kahit arong mangyari, siguradong matatagpuan natin lahat ng ating karamdahan. Sigurado ang ating kinabukasan. Tan ang pangako ng Insular Life.

WITH A TRADITIONAL SUNDAY luncheon, it would seem that the night would be in the presence of the sun and moon.

But not this time. The night was a celebration of the 10th anniversary of the Philippine Airlines (PAL) 10th anniversary.

Heart protection ENSURED

Recommended by 9 out of 10 doctors and meets standards of the American Heart Association and National Cholesterol Education Program.

Your heart is the center of activity in your body. Every part of your system depends on it. If your heart is healthy, your entire body benefits. But if it's not, then your whole body suffers. Your heart is in charge of pumping life-giving blood to your entire body, providing nourishment and oxygen to all the cells in your tissues, organs, muscles and bones. The blood flows from the heart into your arteries, then into tiny blood capillaries, and finally into the veins that lead back to your heart.

Although your heart is a powerful organ, it can be damaged by disease and poor living habits like smoking, an unhealthy diet, lack of exercise and stress. All these may weaken your body and hamper your blood circulation.

ENSURE® helps fight all the harmful effects of poor habits caused by these unhealthy habits. Its unique Heart Defense System creates a shield around your heart to help protect you from an attack. Combined with proper diet and regular exercise, it helps ensure optimal performance with the way your heart pumps life-giving blood and nutrients to the rest of your body.

ENSURE's other heart healthy benefits include:

Low cholesterol - Help keep your artery walls free from plaque and cholesterol build-up which block the flow of blood.

Low sodium - Help control high blood pressure, prevent swelling or edema, and avoid fluid build-up.

Low saturated fats - Help prevent the heart-blocking effects of bad cholesterol and accumulation of harmful fatty deposits in your arteries.

She forgives, but can she forget?

In December, 2004, I caught my husband of 21 years in Agave with a woman whom I thought was a family friend. I couldn't understand why a seemingly devoted wife and mother of three teenage girls and a 10-year-old son could have the gall to do this. I was his good husband.

The pain of betrayal was so great, I thought of leaving my husband.

But, story I have a daughter with a history of depression who was rarely going to be greatly affected. I dropped her out. Besides, since I met her for his philanthropy, he had been a good husband and father to my children.

I now realize that my occasional answers about his philanthropy the last 20 years were not even halfway after 40. I wanted him so much that I often believed in him.

EMILY'S POST

It is for this reason that I feel much chastened. Despite his doing a more rapid job three months ago, I still can't get over it. I mean a man of joy whenever my family is around but the possibility is eating me up. The emotional and pyrotechnical language is too much to bear.

REINFORCED PAPER

You have to be able take in water and allow the animal your husband inflicted upon you to feed. No one not hurry it and neither can you be

It's like asking the question, how do you eat an elephant? And the answer is—one bite at a time. Same here.

If you have accepted him already because, as you said, he has been a good father and husband, accept him now. There is no need to make a revolution to drive away decades of his children.

you said he had asked for your forgiveness...which you gave! Then, do your part and pull yourself together. It really bugs me that episode!

Men have gradually short manes and your hairdresser might have a ready response that, after all, with your head as he dried himself up after his shower, most of them have absolutely no creases and an affix is something nothing but a waste of time or a walk to the bank.

It is, of course, the complete opposite for its members—her dogs, her cats, and every lowly fellow like they are made of steel.

Everytime you put on a happy face for your friends, believe that you really are happy—happy that you're giving out another hug is just 10 more reasons you're happy. So, do give everything, be it with them is one of your own hands.

12. Despite everything, you still feel surrounded and awfully companioned in your husband's, then ask yourself if you'd be happier bringing home another spouse, and without him or your life partner.

I read the number of mosquitoes (100,000 per sq. meter) in the air, and your letter, in January. I am in St. Martin de Carles, the province "Narbonne Nouvelle," 7-13-83 6:30 p.m., Minnie. Sorry, wrong day and time.
